FRIENDSHIP CIRCLE HEARS SPEAKER

Mrs. Grace L. Jerauld, director of Volunteer Services, Taunton State Hospital, was guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Hilltop Friendship Circle, East Mattapoisett. She was greeted by several friends from Marion, where she resided before moving to Raynham.

Mrs. Jerauld spoke of many ways in which organizations and individuals may assist in the rehabilitation of the mentally ill, and it was encouraging to be told that by use of many new methods, it is now possible for many patients to return to their normal activities after fairly short periods of treatment. One of the things patients miss greatly is the hometown newspaper.

Previous to the speaking program, a quahog chowder luncheon was served. Guests were present from Marion and Mattapoisett, and from the Women's Missionary Groups of New Bedford and Long Plain Friends' Meetings. Mrs. Marian S. Hatton, president, conducted the business meeting, when it was voted to donate to the Taunton State Hospital Volunteer Services; to the educational program of John and Rachel (Mostrom) Chapel, in Formosa; to donate a large silver vase, suitably inscribed, to the Meet-

ROCHESTER BOWLING LEAGUE, October 18

Herbs T.V. with Stub Hartley (363) as leading man put on quite a show for the visiting Firemem in the Rochester Bowling League at Bowl-Mor Alleys. Ed Leary's 348 for the Firemen helped to salvage one point. Gibbs Farm Dairy (Art Tripp 338) shut out Lloyds Market (Bud Bassett 332) 3 to 0. Eddie Swift pegged 369 to lead Hartley's Garage to a 2 to 1 win over D. Mahoney & Sons (Gene Benoit 332). Ralph Gurney with 331 rolled Hartley Saw Mill to 2 points from Rounseville Saw Mill. Tony Lopes hit 348 for the losers.

ART CENTER CLASSES

The second half of the Fall class schedule at the Marion Art Center will begin the 2nd of November. Students may register for the next four lessons in oil painting, Mr. Peter Busa, instructor, Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30, and oil and water color painting, Mr. Louis Sylvia, instructor, Thursday evenings, from 7:30 to 10:00, at the Art Center. Mrs. Ruth Faber of Mattapoisett, director of classroom activities for the Art Center, announces that there will be an exhibit of Fall work at the Art Center on December 10 and 11 from 2 to 4 P.M. and 7 to 9 P.M. Registration is complete for the Children's Gift Class to be held on Saturday afternoons with Mrs. Thayer Francis, Jr. and Mrs. Walter Hellier, instructors.

ROCHESTER RESIDENT TO TEACH AT REGIONAL SCHOOL

A Rochester resident has accepted a position at Dighton-Rehoboth Regional Vocational High School in the capacity of related instructor in automobile trade. Nathan Lawrence of Neck Road commenced his teaching duties recently.

Mr. Lawrence will be giving classroom instruction in trade English, related mathematics, related science and shop theory.

Mr. Lawrence has had 14 years in the automobile trade of mechanics and repairing. He attended Rochester elementary schools and graduated from New Bedford Vocational High School. Mr. Lawrence also attended Fitchburg State Teachers College.

He is one of the Rochester members on the Old Rochester Regional High School committee. For the past three years Mr. Lawrence has served as Cubmaster of Pack 30 and is a member of the Rochester Men's Brotherhood. He is assistant fire chief of Rochester Fire Department.

Mr. Lawrence is married to Althea (Morse) Lawrence of Acushnet and they are the parents of three children, Wayne, 12, Jo-Ann, 9 and Susan, 4.

Saltonstall said: "I have debated the public issues before the citizens of Massachusetts for 36 years and I will go on debating all of them openly throughout my public service. I don't have to wait to be asked."

"Throughout this campaign I have discussed the national security, world peace, immigration and civil rights, inflation and economic growth, medical care for the aged, an increased minimum wage, and adequate employment for Massachusetts working men and women. My opponent, however, keeps coming back to the empty charge that I won't discuss the issues with him."

"I replied to Mr. O'Connor in September saying that there was no sense in debating against myself, in discussing my record when he had almost no record to discuss. There would be no real purpose served by setting forth my open views which I have always strived to make known to my constituents when he had not yet made his own stand clear on the huge national and international issues before us."

The Senior Bay State Senator reviewed the "effectiveness of his performance in Washington on the grave matters of national concern with which my opponent is not acquainted."

"In these times of unprecedented challenge," said Saltonstall, "both Massachusetts and the nation need leaders with first-hand knowledge, with enough ability and influence to get things done in Washington. The hollow promises of inexperience are not enough. Government is a complicated business. Solutions to its problems are not easy, but are accomplished only after great effort and sustained close contact."

WEASELS TAKE LEAD IN BOWLING LEAGUE

The Weasels, with Marion Faria having a high triple of 344 and a high single of 134, moved into a 4-game lead on October 21st in the Mattapoisett Couples Bowling League at Bowl-Mor Alleys. Three teams are tied for second place. The Weasels have won 10 consecutive strings. Leaders for the men were Bob Sylvia with a high triple of 388 and Herb Cray with a high single of 146.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO HEAR POLITICAL TALK

Mr. Frank Dibble of Tabor Academy will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club to be held this Thursday, in the Congregational Church parish hall. Mr. Dibble will talk on "Know Your State and Local Candidates". This program should be of great interest to every club member with the election only two weeks away.

Mrs. Gerald Riley of North Attleboro, third District Director, will be the honored guest. A social and coffee hour will be held from 2 to 3 P.M. with Mrs. Robert Fietz as hostess. The business meeting will follow conducted by the president, Mrs. Ross Hopkins.

THE "DEBATE"

At the conclusion of the fourth meeting of the candidates for President, a news commentator appeared. He said, "This concludes the fourth rate debate", or else he said, "This concludes the fourth great debate". At any rate I caught the former and agree. This fourth of the series followed what is called the format of the first. The candidates made an opening and a closing statement. In other words, both put the needle in the groove and let the automatic vocal equipment take over and by now both statements have been well absorbed by the American people since they have repeated at every opportunity in each "debate". This is a competition to see which candidate can blow up the biggest verbal balloon and takes up about half the program. In the middle portion of the program the panel of news commentators had some vital, good questions for the candidates. These questions were along the line, "The problems are this; what solution do you have, what action would you take?" This type of question, almost without exception, was expertly evaded by each candidate in turn. In any case where a candidate could, or would, answer a question, the clock would cut him off before he was in any danger of saying anything. In any case there were some facts brought to light. Bostonian Kennedy came out strongly against beans in the second debate. Nixon agreed in principal but his methods would be different. Of course, Nixon is not from Boston. In the fourth "debate", on a program sponsored by the major television networks, Kennedy denounced colored television. Nixon had no opportunity for a rebuttal on this stand and perhaps the American people will never know his opinion. Along the way the fundamental differences between the men were glimpsed and touched on fleetingly. The differences in many cases are wide and vital to the country, and it is our loss that the "Great Debate" was never a debate but an hour-long "Meet the Press". The American people have the duty and the problem of picking a leader for the next four years. We will find little help in the "brave new horizon balloons". We are in the dark on every deftly evaded question of vital concern. One in particular being the identity of the next Secretary of State. But here and there there is a nugget of fact, a fundamental difference between more socialism or more dependence on the free enterprise system. On these few, small, gleaming grains the choice of the people will have to be made.

ROCHESTER GIRL WINS MONEY

How does it feel to hear your name called out as the winner of $1,000? A Rochester girl had that experience a few weeks ago and she still is "flabbergasted".

Miss Barbara Grenier, 21, of Rounseville Road is a pleasant young lady with a nice smile and sparkling dark brown eyes which dance a merry tune when she speaks about her winnings.

Barbara had a very busy week during the period of her good fortune. Her engagement was announced to James Grillo of Fall River, and then several days later she received pressure cooker burns on her arms and leg.

Despite her burns Barbara persuaded her mother, Mrs. Normand Grenier, to drive her to a local amusement center that held weekly drawings. Mrs. Grenier hesitated to have her daughter travel because of the nature of the burns but Mrs. Grenier's caution was overruled which proved a decided advantage to Barbara.

When and if your name is called, the winner has to present and identify himself with a three minute period. Barbara says to this day she cannot remember how she got to the stage. She says she remembers her mother pushing her and as for the burns, she completely forgot they existed.

Barbara is the daughter of the Normand Greniers of Rounseville Road and Mr. Grillo is the son of Mrs. James Grillo of Fall River.

Wedding plans have been completed and Barbara hopes to exchange marriage vows in the mission chapel of SS Martha and Mary Church, Lakeville, under construction on Vaughn Hill Road, Rochester. The Rev. Francis J. Greene is looking forward to the chapel being completed by June 10, the date chosen by Barbara and James for their wedding day.

Being sensible young people, the young couple are buying needed items for their home. With the winning of the $1,000 they have purchased a stove, television set, silverware, a set of dishes and other miscellaneous items necessary to setting up housekeeping. Barbara has selected her wedding gown already and is now assembling her trousseau.

Barbara attended Sacred Hearts Academy in Fairhaven for six years, St. Killian School and New Bedford Vocational High School. She presently is employed at Economy Manufacturing Company, New Bedford.

Last year Barbara was the winner of the bowling trophy from the Economy Manufacturing Company Bowling League.

Looking forward to Barbara's wedding day are

MISS A.M. PIERCE BEGINS 29th YEAR
AS SUNDAY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

Miss Annie M. Pierce of Pierce Street, Rochester commenced her 29th year as superintendent of Sunday School classes at the East Rochester Congregational Church when classes resumed for the Fall season. Miss Pierce has devoted her life to teaching other people's children both in the church and in public school. She is now raising a 12 year old boy who lost his mother four years ago and, along with the boy's father is hoping in a small way to ease the loneliness in a small boy's heart. Her fervent hope is that she lives long enough to see Wesley Rollins into young adulthood.

"Children and my love of children are my whole life," said Miss Pierce who is 69 years young. Her goodness and charity for her fellowmen is an evident example in her serne face. Since her retirement she keeps busy visiting shut-ins, friends and is ever ready to do a favor.

Her biggest complaint is her inability to do all the many things that are dear to her heart because of recent illness. "Aunt Annie", as she is called by all, has been a patient seven times in the hospital the last two years with her last stay one of 38 days.

She was teacher in public schools for almost 26 years before her retirement in 1952. She started her teaching career in 1908 and taught at Vineyard Haven. After two years there, she was hired and taught at North Dighton, staying there until February, 1913. From there she went to New Bedford and taught at Roosevelt Junior High School until her retirement in 1952. During the period she taught in New Bedford she arose every morning at 4:30 A.M. and before leaving her home everything was immaculate and preparation for dinner started.

When asked if she though children behaved the same now as 25 years ago she answered "They are much the same except discipline is not as strong either in the home or school."

OVER 100 CHILDREN ENROLLED IN SUNDAY SCHOOL

Parents in Rochester believe children should have religious teaching as evidenced by the enrollment of 108 children in Sunday School classes at the First Congregational Church, Rochester Center. This is only the beginning for the number in the classes is expected to swell.

Eighteen adults and teen-agers make up the corp of instructors for this large group of interested youngsters. Heading the church school group is Mrs. Doris Gurney, superintendent.

Serving as pastor of the church is Mrs. George A. Hill, Jr. of New Bedford. Other officers include Mrs. William L. Warburton, clerk; Mrs. Andrew J. MacGregor, treasurer and Mrs. Daniel Lawrence Hartley, assistant treasurer. The indispensable Mrs. Gurney is organist for worship services and director of the Youth Choir of the church.

Deacons are Calvin R. Daggett, Victor St. Aubin and Hoyle Demoranville. Trustees in-

A member of the Church Service Circle of the church Aunt Annie is chairman of the apron committee and chairman of the sunshine committee. When anyone is ill either at home or in the hospital she is there either with flowers, cards or a little remembrance and her own sweet self trying to bring a bit of sunshine and light to the person.

Aunt Annie humorously noted that in 1913 when Miss Barbara Beaton passed away she was appointed to fill the vacancy of the superintendency of the Sunday School classes temporarily.

She has served so well and faithfully that there never was any question about appointing anyone else. Aunt Annie is suited for the organizing of Sunday School classes and the superintendency could not have been given to a more able, unselfish or efficient person.

One of the trustees of the church said that as far as he was concerned Annie would continue as superintendent for as long as she desired, and in his opinion she is tops. Her love for children shows in everything she does and her thoughts and actions are directed clude Mrs. Ethel Gary, Mrs. Kenneth W. Winslow, Albert Humphrey, Mrs. Greenwood Hartley, Mr. Demoranville and Mr. St. Aubin.

Sunday school pupils have the services of bus transportation with the bus leaving Sherman's store on Sunday as the start of its route. Sunday School classes commence at 9:30 A.M.

Teachers are as follows: Mrs. George A. Lawrence, Miss Geraldine Lawrence and Mrs. David M. Fearing, pre-school; Mrs. Calvin Daggett and Miss Andrea Doane, grade 1; Mrs. Dorothy Doane, grade 2; Miss Constance Hardy and Miss Joan LaPointe, grade 3; Miss Audrey LaFleur and Miss Corinne Thompson, grade 4; Mrs. Martha Fearing and William Alves, grade 5; Robert Gonet, grade 6; Mrs. Allen P. Winsor, Jr., grade 7 girls and Mr. St.Aubin, grade 7 boys; Mr. Daggett, grade 8 and Mrs. Hill, junior and senior high school.

The Youth Choir group has held several projects this past year which have helped build up the Choir Robe Fund.

Religion is not a forgotten item in Rochester as evidenced by the large enrollment for Sunday School classes. Behind this enthusiastic response to church classes and activities, credit must be given to two of the many hardworking members of the group, Mrs. Hill, the pastor, and Mrs. Gurney, the superintendent, who firmly believe in the Christian way of life.

towards benefiting and helping children. The trustee mentioned her love for children and how all her efforts are concentrated on this, the most focal point in her life.

She saw to it that Wesley attended all Little League games this Summer and, incidentally, he was tops as pitcher. She makes sure that he does his homework and sees that he is able to attend weekly Boy Scout meetings.

Aunt Annie is the oldest of 13 children. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William W. Pierce and her grandfather was Moses Pierce. All members of her family were born here, received their schooling here and went to church here.

The East Rochester Congregational Church which observed its 103rd anniversary August 22nd was organized by the Rev. Timothy Hall in 1854. The Rev. George Pierce helped materially in furnishing the church.
